

Member Benefits

Members of our Club benefit from attending and participating in our monthly meetings:

- ◆ opportunities to seek answers to worrying computing problems;
- ◆ provide constructive support for the growth of the Club;

- ◆ participating in direction-determining member surveys;

- ◆ tuition through the monthly presentations in topics ranging over a broad area. (Past recent presentations included: Computer Maintenance, Fonts, iDVD, iMovie, iPhoto, iPods, GarageBand, Converting vinyl records to digital, Troubleshooting, Leopard preview);

- ◆ members can also volunteer to make long or short presentations in computing topics of their choosing;

- ◆ members receive a copy of Mac Clips, the Apple Bug (from the Apple-Q (Brisbane) Club) and a monthly edition of The President's Notes;

- ◆ other Apple computing information is available from time to time, for example, on how to take better digital photographs, and useful links to websites;

- ◆ assistance is also provided to members through our TAAMUG website maintained by one of our members, Mr Ian Douglas;

- ◆ back issues of the Club Newsletter Mac Clips and links to other useful sites are also found on the web site;

- ◆ members can also benefit from our moving to form closer productive links with other Macintosh User Groups close by and in other areas and from the Australian Mac User group;

- ◆ over recent times we have also established an email network enabling members to seek information between meetings and interact with others over issues that concern them now;

- ◆ members are also able to advertise hardware for sale or seek to buy used computers or equipment;

- ◆ from time to time there are free give-aways of old Apple computers and other hardware;

- ◆ members can also borrow magazines and books from the Club and we also hold a Christmas BBQ and are placing greater emphasis on social interaction and friendship
